Nicholas D. Deets is highly distinguished lawyer and a principal with Hovde Dassow & Deets, LLC. In this powerful interview, Nick discusses how he obtained a verdict for Stacey Riley in her medical malpractice claim against Dr. Paul Kwo in the Boone Circuit Court on June 27, 2009. The claim arose out of Stacey's post-operative visit with Dr. Kwo on July 1, 2003 where she complained of blurred vision, a twitching lip, a tingling arm, was a smoker on birth control and had a blood pressure reading of 180/100. Stacey claimed that Dr. Kwo should have made a referral to the emergency room or her primary care physician based upon these symptoms. Dr. Kwo did not make a referral and Stacey suffered a massive stroke the next day which permanently affected her speech and right-sided motor skills.

Additionally, Nick has handled numerous large personal injury, wrongful death and medical malpractice cases. He obtained a settlement of $3,625,000 on behalf of parents whose 16 year old son was killed in an accident with a major trucking company. He obtained a settlement in excess of $1,400,000 on behalf of steel workers who were injured when a warehouse collapsed during construction. He has obtained the maximum recovery for several patients in medical malpractice claims against medical providers and the Indiana Patients Compensation Fund.

He was born in Bloomington, Indiana on December 9, 1966 and is a graduate of Purdue University (B.S.I.M., with honors, 1989) and the Indiana University School of Law, Bloomington (J.D., with distinction, 1993). He was admitted to the Indiana State Bar in 1993. and is admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court.

Nick was recognized as an Indiana Super Lawyer by Indianapolis Magazine in 2006, 2007 and 2008. He is a member of the American Board of Trial Advocates and is a Fellow of the Indiana Bar Foundation. His principal practice areas are personal injury, medical malpractice and wrongful death. He has tried more than 75 jury trials to verdict.

James R. Schwebel founded what is now Minnesota's largest law practice specializing in personal injury litigation. Today, he and his partners lead a team of 17 attorneys and over 85 employees who are committed to achieving fair and swift compensation for their clients. In this exciting interview, Jim discusses the tragic collapse of the 35W Bridge over the Mississippi River in Minneapolis, in which Schwebel, Goetz & Sieben was hired by family members of those who died as well as by individuals who had suffered various serious injuries.

Jim is also one of only three Minnesota lawyers who were inducted into the Founder's Society of the Minnesota Trial Lawyers Association. In every year since its inception, he has been listed in "Leading Minnesota Attorneys" published by the American Research Corporation. "Minnesota Lawyer" called him one of "Minnesota's Top 25 Litigators." His achievements have been noted in Minnesota Law & Politics "Top 3 Personal Injury Awards." "Top 10 Super Lawyers" and National Law Journal recently acknowledged him as one of "Minnesota's Top Ten Litigators."

Jim successfully represented victims of the MGM Hotel fire in Las Vegas and the Williams Pipeline explosion in Roseville. In addition, he was appointed by the Court as a member of the Plaintiff's liability Committee to handle claims for many Minnesotans who lost family members in the Galaxy Airlines crash in Reno, Nevada. In a 2002, jury trial he received the highest award ever handed down for the wrongful death of a young man. Jim received record post-trial settlements for victims of the Nicollett Mall Hollidazzle Crash.

Jim was one of the first attorneys in Minnesota to be certified as a Civil Trial Specialist by the National Board of Trial Advocacy. He was also chosen for membership on the American Board of Trial Advocates. Jim was appointed by the Minnesota Supreme Court to serve on the Board of Professional Responsibility and on the Board of Law Examiners.

Roger Clark is the founding member and managing partner of Clark, Goldberg & Madruga www.clarkgoldberg.com. In his more than 25 years practicing law, Roger has earned a national reputation as a successful trial attorney representing insurers, cable television providers, and small and large businesses in a broad range of business litigation matters. "My philosophy has always been that the attorneys in this law firm must be prepared not just to 'litigate' a case, but to try it before a judge or jury, while at the same time keeping the client's goals and objectives squarely within our sights." Roger is rated "AV" by Martindale-Hubbell, which is the highest rating that can be bestowed upon an attorney.

Hosted by Steve Murphy.
