Andrew J. Entwistle is a founding partner of Entwistle & Cappucci LLP. He discusses many of the areas of the law his firm practices. Andrew's practice principally involves the representation of public and private institutional investors in complex litigation and corporate finance and transactional matters.

Over the years, Andrew has represented clients including Fortune 100 companies, public and private institutional investors, governmental and individual clients in a variety of corporate finance, and transactional matters and in complex business, securities, antitrust and bankruptcy litigation throughout the United States before federal and state courts, surrogate's and probate courts, grand juries, administrative and regulatory agencies and arbitration panels. For example, Mr. Entwistle's recent representation of the Colorado Public Employees Retirement Association in In re Royal Ahold N.V. Securities and ERISA Litigation led to a recovery of more than $1.1 billion for his clients. Mr. Entwistle is also actively engaged in the defense of institutional investors and international businesses in complex securities, antitrust, bankruptcy and corporate finance related matters.

Entwistle & Cappucci's tradition of creativity and success in serving its clients around the world traces its history to firms established more than 30 years ago. Today, we extend our commitment to meet changing client needs by combining this tradition with the most advanced computer and communications technology.

The firm defines themselves and our practice by the strength of our relationships. At the heart of these relationships is our understanding of the needs and goals of our clients. An experienced team of lawyers brings depth, expertise and common sense to the search for practical solutions to business and legal problems. Every person working in our firm is dedicated to developing long-lasting relationships, rich with the goals we help our clients achieve. Some of the principal areas of their practice are:

- Complex Business and Commercial Litigation
- Securities Litigation and Corporate Governance
- Business Transactions, Employment and Labor
- Executive Compensation, Government Affairs and Administrative Law, Insurance and Reinsurance, Intellectual Property and Cyberlaw, Trust and Estate Litigation, Planning and Administration
- Alternate Dispute Resolution; and, Workouts, Reorganizations and Bankruptcy Litigation

Marilyn G. Haft joined Duval & Stachenfeld as a partner in 2004 to establish and now co-chair the Entertainment and Media Practice Group of the Firm. She specializes in the business and legal affairs of the multimedia and communication industries, including the film, television and publishing sectors. She represents film and television production and distribution companies as well as individuals in those businesses, with a specialty in structuring financing for those enterprises. In addition, she maintains impressive credentials and diverse contacts in the entertainment and political fields. Marilyn has been a law partner at a number of firms and was a test case constitutional law litigator at the national level for six years when she litigated in the State and Federal courts across the country including the U.S. Supreme Court.

She has served as General Counsel and Managing Director of a financial services company that provided short-term funding requirements for major film studios, independent film producers/distributors, cable and record companies. She was responsible for co-creating the financing structure of the transactions, and conducted due diligence on all contractual and cash flow related matters. Marilyn was also General Counsel to a publicly traded multimedia acquisitions company, where she was responsible for all aspects relating to acquisitions, including intellectual property issues involving patent, copyright, trademark and trade secrets. She is an award-winning independent film producer and has worked at NBC News and ABC News on content and production and as a producer on Peter Jennings' specials. She was Executive Producer of an American Playhouse feature film, as well as an Emmy award-winning documentary on Preston Sturges for "American Masters" on National Public Television. She acted as a co-producer of "Grace is Gone," the John Cusack movie that won the Audience Award and Best Screenplay Award at the 2007 Sundance Film Festival. Most recently she acted as a co-producer on two films chosen for the 2008 Sundance Film Festival, "Diminished Capacity," starring Matthew Broderick, Virginia Madsen and Alan Alda, and "Birds of America," starring and co-produced by Hillary Swank.

Marilyn served the Carter Administration as Associate Director of the Office of Public Liaison in the White House, Deputy Counsel to Vice President Walter Mondale in the White House and as a U.S. Representative to the United Nations. She was the head of the New York City primary campaign for Carter/Mondale in 1980. She was an Adjunct Professor at NYU's Tisch School of the Arts Graduate Film and TV, where she taught entertainment law and business to third year graduate students. She is an author of general non-fiction books, including legal works. Marilyn is a graduate of the New York University School of Law where she taught as an adjunct professor, and she is a member of the Bars of New York State, the District of Columbia and the US Supreme Court.

Roger Clark is the founding member and managing partner of Clark,

Goldberg & Madruga www.clarkgoldberg.com. In his more than 25 years practicing law, Roger has earned a national reputation as a successful trial attorney representing insurers, cable television providers, and small and large businesses in a broad range of business litigation matters. "My philosophy has always been that the attorneys in this law firm must be prepared not just to 'litigate' a case, but to try it before a judge or jury, while at the same time keeping the client's goals and objectives squarely within our sights." Roger is rated "AV" by Martindale-Hubbell, which is the highest rating that can be bestowed upon an attorney.
