Sol H. Weiss is a highly experienced trial lawyer known for his exacting preparation and attention to detail. A "lawyer's lawyer", he is able to handle the most complex case and still present the facts and law in a way that the judge and jury will understand. In this interview, he provides helpful information about pharmaceutical pricing (AMP/AWP) and its legal and social impact on the public.

Sol also concentrates his practice in complex civil litigation including class actions and pharmaceutical cases, medical and other professional malpractice, securities litigation and products liability matters. He has served in various positions for the Pennsylvania Trial Lawyers Association, and was a member of the Board of the Philadelphia Trial Lawyers Association. He is currently President of the Eastern Pennsylvania Chapter of the American Board of Trial Advocates. He is a frequent lecturer on class actions, pharmaceutical liability, civil litigation issues, trial skills and technology in the courtroom. Sol has lectured for many professional groups including the Pennsylvania Bar Institute, Mealey's, the Philadelphia Trial Lawyers Association and for private industry. He is a member of the American,

Pennsylvania and Philadelphia Bar Associations and Trial Lawyer Associations. He is also a member of the Public Investors Arbitration Bar Association (PIABA), which exclusively represents investors in stock fraud and stock loss cases.

Sol earned his Bachelor's degree from the Pennsylvania State University in 1968 and his law degree from Villanova University School of Law in 1972. He is licensed to practice in Pennsylvania, as well as being specially admitted to practice in other states. Sol is an active member of the Board of Consultors of the Villanova University School of Law. He also served as Director of the Linda Creed Breast Cancer Foundation.

David R. Stallard is a nationally distinguished attorney and former Assistant Attorney General for the State of Utah. As the Chief Auditor for the Utah Attorney General's Office, David investigated and prosecuted fraud by health care providers and financial exploitation of vulnerable adults. In this interview, he offers his professional expertise concerning pharmaceutical pricing (AMP/AWP).

David's commitment to public service also includes work on behalf of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), where he was an investigator of large real estate loan losses at First Republic Bank. His investigations determined potential liability for fraud, bank officers' and directors' negligence, and malfeasance of attorneys, accountants and appraisers. A graduate of Brigham Young University, David holds a law degree from the University of Texas and an MBA of from the University of Utah.
